1. Claims 1-10 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-10 of U.S. Patent No. 6,005,848. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because by further providing a plurality of outbound codes to subscribers in the sub-talk group in U.S. Patent No. 6,005,848, which is well known in the art and commonly applied in data communication field, to provide communications between the subscriber units in one-to-one manner, it would have been obvious to one skill in the art to make the same invention as claimed in the instant application.

Similarly, Claims 1-10 are also rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-10 of U.S. Patent No. 6,308,079. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because by replacing the time slot/frequency assignment to code assignment in U.S. Patent No. 6,308,079, which are well known channel assignment techniques and commonly inter-exchangeable in data communication field, to provide communications between the subscriber units in different channel assignment scheme, it would have been obvious to one skill in the art to make the same invention as claimed in the instant application.

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970);and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

- 3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
  - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
- 5. Claims 11- 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over COOK in U.S. Patent No. 4,109,111 in view of GRUBE et al. in U.S. Patent No. 5,463,617.

By broadly interpreting the conference call as the claimed talkgroup call, COOK discloses a method and system for communication between subscriber units by receiving inbound voice data from the subscriber units within a talkgroup, summing the inbound voice data to form a first summed voice data, removing the first subscriber data to produced a second summed voice data, transmitting the first summed voice data to other subscribers, and transmitting the second summed voice data to the first subscriber (see abstract, col. 2, lines 3-27) as in claims 11-14. But COOK fails to disclose the feature of having the conferencing call operated under a wireless communications environment, which is well known in the art and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art to implement. GRUBE et al., for example, from the similar field of endeavor, teaches the group call communication between subscriber units operating in wireless CDMA communication system, which can be easily adopted by one of ordinary skill in the art into the system of COOK to provide a wireless conferencing environment to further enhance the system performance and capability.

Application/Control Number: 09/535,924

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Huang, Sollner et al. and Grube '921 are all cited to show the common feature of group calls communication between subscriber units in wireless CDMA communication system similar to the claimed invention.

Epps is further cited to show the feature of conference call provides the summation and subtraction of voice signals among the conferees utilizing conference call bridge similar to the claimed invention.
